Capturing Pictorial & Oral History of Flood Events

Normanton

Council would love to hear from members of the public who wish to share their experiences with the Moonsoon event through photos, video and stories, including the 1974 floods and/or other events through the years.

These images will form part of a display to highlight the impact of flooding of the Gulf of Carpentaria. Members of the public will be asked to provide details like, name, address, where the image was captured and identifiable landmarks, some of your feelings and stories behind the photo or video and of course providing permission for Council to use your image.

"Members of the public will be interviewed and their stories will be kept for others to appreciate the impacts of flood events on peoples lives in the Gulf of Carpentaria" Mayor Jack Baldwin.

This project has been jointly funded by the Australian & Queensland Government through the FNQ & NQ Moonsoon Trough Category C Flexible Funding Grants Program.

FROM THE CEO MARK CRAWLEY

Welcome to the second Newsletter for 2021 and with a busy start to the year weatherwise we continue to monitor the Bureau's Weather advice for more potential storms. Imogen was quite destructive as a category One Cyclone and caused some structural damage where a lot of trees were brought down. It is a friendly reminder that we must continue to ensure loose items are well secured and are not able to be blown around. These loose items can cause further damage if not stored correctly. I noticed driving around following the cyclone a few items, like a trampoline, were now located in the middle of the road.

Carpentaria Shire has a lot of information available for residents to assist with preparing for cyclones and other Natural Disasters. If you have trouble locating these on our website please contact the office and we will endeavour to get the information to you. What is your "What If" Plan?

Council wishes to apologise for the previous two editions of the Newsletter which were distributed late with some of the information in the newsletter being older news as some events had passed by the time they were released. Sorry about that, we aim to do better. We do hope that you enjoyed the new layout with the last newsletter being a bit bigger in size, (allows for a bit bigger print). We are now aiming for a Quarterly Newsletter with four separate issues following this one, the first being at the end of March – April edition, second at the end of June – July edition, third at the end of September – October edition and the final at the end of December – January (the New Year) edition.

The Executive Leadership Team at Council will be undertaking a Service Review over the coming six months to get a better understanding of the services provided to the community and the costs associated with the delivery of these services. Some of the services we undertake are purely undertaken through necessity because of legislation and licensing from other levels of Government, through this process we will be able to get a clear picture of where money is spent and how much compliance actually costs the Council. We have the traditional local government services like roads, rubbish, water, sewerage and Parks and Gardens as well as some of the services that are community driven, like the provision of child care or provision of housing for our seniors in the community.

Johnty O'Brien

Council continues with the delivery of the program to restore our road network damaged by cyclone and monsoon rains from 2017-2020. 2017, 2018 and some of the 2019 has been completed and contracts for the 2021 construction season will be assessed and presented to Council for the February Meeting.

I trust that everyone has had a good break following what was a very different year in 2020 and I am looking forward to a busy and productive 2021.

Until next time, cheers.

MAYORS MESSAGE JACK BAWDEN

February already. The year has well and truly fired up and normal business (or as normal as Covid will allow) is starting to tick over.

With Australia Day behind us and the schools back into it, it's hard to imagine why all the Mums and Dads are so full of joy. Some parents are doing it tough though with the older ones off to boarding school and we sympathize with them and their first timers. A lot of kids will slip into the boarding mode straight away but there will be the ones who don't. Its cold comfort but those of us who have been there, understand and can assure you that it does get easier for both parents and children as time goes on.

As I said Australia Day is now behind us and it was a great day in both Normanton and Karumba. Congratulations to all the nominees and winners. Being nominated makes you a winner anyway but unfortunately there can only be one "badge of glory" so to those who got the badge, well done and well deserved.

At the risk of repeating myself (you do that a fair bit as you get more mature) we need to see more nominations for the judges to choose from. Every year we hear the same remarks of "who should have and why didn't" but the fact is the judges choose winners out of a pool put up by the public so if you believe someone or some club is deserved then nominate them so they have a chance.

Thank you to all the volunteers and helpers for your assistance on the day in both towns to make it what is was. Especially the SES breakfast cooks and the Karumba J&R United cooks.

It was good to see the Prime Minister revisit the West again last month, we just have to convince him that the Gulf is where all the action is.

The whole group of our Northwest Qld ROC councils met with him in the Curry and were all pretty happy at how it went. He is in no doubt anymore that we as a region are getting short changed by the Banking industry and Insurance companies.

Where it goes from here is now up the PM and his troops but they did listen and took notes on the fact that housing shortfalls, employment opportunities and a host of other issues relate directly back to the reluctance of banks to loan.

I will take this opportunity to acknowledge our new Senator for Queensland, Susan McDonald as being the best thing to happen to this region in a long time. As a Councillor I/we have to remain unbiased or "A political" as they say but as a representative for us "scrubbers" she is doing a great job promoting, advocating and generally mixing it with the best of them. Susan was in the party that visited Cloncurry and assisted us greatly during the discussions.

I'm not sure when this goes to print but if it is before the week beginning 22nd February I would like to ask Karumba to have all your issues around the internet and mobile phone, ready for a Telstra representative who is coming up to look at our problems in the town.

We had a good meeting with them today (11/02/2021) and hopefully will move forward from now on. We also need to get an idea of who is using Skymuster (NBN) and how effective they think it is so please contact your councillors or the front desk so we can build a report for them.

Another day to keep in mind is March 12th which has been earmarked by the department of Prime Minister and Cabinet to provide a grant application/writing workshop in Normanton from 5.30-8.30pm. This is so businesses in both towns get a chance to participate so keep your eye open for the notices.

This comes off the back of the 2019 flood and the stink we kicked up so it would be good to see a good roll up and is actually in your own interest to do so. Those who know Bruce Scott and Tahna Jackson (and of course boss man Shane Stone) will agree that they are doing their utmost in looking after us so we need to show that their efforts aren't wasted and show support with our presence. They have a huge area to cover and the opportunity should be taken when presented.

Seeing as it's me that's dragging the chain I will leave it there so the staff can get this to the printers and hopefully the above dates will be still valid when this appears in your PO box.

Stay safe Jack Bawden

THE MULCH

Dog's Balls Shrub

This low lying shrub with broad velvety leaves can be found across the northern parts of Australia.

This plant has been used for medicinal purpose by Indigenous people for thousands of years to treat dysentery and diarrohea and also goes by the name 'dysentery bush'.

It was later discovered by Europeans near the Endeavour River Queensland and given the common name 'Dog's

Dog's Balls Fruit

Balls Shrub' by Sir Joseph Banks for its appearance.

The fruit generally has two seeds that are fused together side by side, covered in soft hairs, that hang down on a short

After 250 years the plant has been given a new scientific name - Grewia savannicola, which means 'savanna-dwelling'.

How time swims by, the life mission is ready to begin

These littlies arrived into the nursery on 3 December and life took off with thousands of little bubbles and eating through millions of rotifers several times a day. It's been an intense time for the hatchery staff growing zooplankton, grading and moving the fingerlings around the tanks to ensure that the centre has the best results of survival.

It only seems like yesterday that the word in the hatchery was the "Love Tank" now the Barra Centre are very excited as preparation was made to farewell the first successful spawn in the new hatchery. Handover to the Gulf Barramundi Restocking Association (GBRA) saw these little guys start their life mission into waterways within the Gulf region.

With delight the hatchery handed over 96,000 fingerlings on 14 January to the Gulf Barramundi Restocking Association. These little guys were released into the Norman River to continue their journey in the Southern Gulf Barramundi cycle of life.

REPTILES OF THE GULF

Gilbert's Dragon

These lizards are colloquially known as "Ta Ta" lizards, due to their habit of "waving" after running across hot surfaces.

They are more than meets the eye. Did you know:

- males stake their claim on 'daily activity areas' where they forage for food
- males guard their territory against other males, but not females
- both males & females shift their daily activity area on sequential days
- they use sight & auditory cues to locate prey
- prey is caught every 92 minutes or 6-7 times per day
- they adopt three different stationary postures: defensive, vigilant and aggressive
- Males have a courting posture that involves head bobbing, body pressing and tail twitching
- they are good swimmers and will dive into the bottom of water to avoid

WHO AM I?

I am not very common in the southern parts of Australia, however, I am found congregating in marshlands during the dry season.

Sometimes it's difficult to tell me apart from another species that quite often frequents the same areas.

I partner for life with a life expectancy of up to approximately 40 years.

We breed between December and January, with females laying two spotted blotched white eggs.

Our eggs are laid in large heaps of grass & sticks, usually in shallow water but occasionally well away from water.

We both incubate the eggs between 28-32 days. Our chicks will fledge at 90 – 100 days.

The chicks reach maturity at 2-3 years, then they will start to seek out mates at 3-4 years of age.

We are famous for our majestic courting dance.

Our wingspan extends to 2.3 metres, we stand up to 1.3 metres high, we are omnivores, we eat a variety of wetland plants, insects and amphibians and are even known to eat mice, have a heavy beak like a crowbar to wedge the ground open to turn it over in search for food.

Did you know I have a gland in the corner of my eye that helps pass the excess salt. I am famous, there is a big statue of me in Townsville, I was also featured on the Queensland Coat of Arms in 1977 and am the only one within my species to be native to Australia. Who am I?

Flipside Circus is coming to town

Ever dreamed of joining the circus? This is your opportunity to learn circus skills the Flipside Circus. Workshops will be held for children between the ages of 4 to 16 yrs of age at Karumba (1 day) and Normanton (5 days). Flipside will be in Normanton the first week of Term 2. Further details will be provided shortly.

Celebrating 50 years since the signing of the Convention on Wetlands of International Importance (Ramsar Convention)

What is the Ramsar Convention? The Ramsar Convention aims to halt the global loss of wetlands and to conserve those that remain through wise use and management.

Australia listed it's first wetland in 1974 under the important significance of the Ramsar Convention. Today, between all states and territories, there are 66 wetlands sites that are protected, with the first wetland site listed being in Cobourg Peninsula, Northern Territory.

The theme for 2021 is "Wetlands and Water" to highlight the role wetlands play in:

• clean water • water supply • ecosystem resilience • sustainable livelihoods and jobs • biodiversity conservation • storm protection • carbon storage • climate change adaptation • health and wellbeing • tourism and recreation

Even though Muttonhole Wetlands might not be listed as a Ramsar site, it definitely plays an important role in it's own unique way. Mutton Hole Wetlands Regional Park is part of the largest continuous estuarine wetland aggregation of its type in northern Queensland and lies within the Southen Gulf Aggregation which is listed in the Directory of Important Wetlands in Australia (DIWA). It is included in and surrounded by the Gulf Plains Important Bird and Biodiversity Area (IBA) due to its significance as a bird habitat. Eleven species of internationally conservation significant bird species have been recorded in the area.
